

People are rude enough by talking on the phone while boarding the plane! As a frequent flier... I would very much hate having to listen to someone for two hours while they talk on the phone. Add 50 or more other people that are on the plane. Let me have a little peace and quiet for a little while.

Thank you,
Scott Jackson